Three easy steps to get your admin onboard

Step 1: Offer to do some training

Use the Classroom Collaborative to lead professional development for your district. We have ready-made training materials, step-by-step guides, and everything you need to share what you've learned with teachers.

What you can say:

"I'd love to lead a district PD session using SchoolAI's Classroom Collaborative resources. I can show our teams exactly how this has improved coaching and student outcomes."

Step 3: Have the conversation

Here are talking points and background information to help you feel prepared for any questions about how SchoolAI fits into your district.

Quick facts for your conversation:

- Student outcomes: "Schools see 30-40% increases in student engagement within the first semester."
- Budget & ROI: "The cost per student is less than one textbook annually."
- Safety & compliance: "Administrators get complete visibility into usage and outcomes—no black box AI."
- Implementation: "Dedicated success teams provide on-demand training and live PD workshops for smooth rollout."

Common admin concerns:

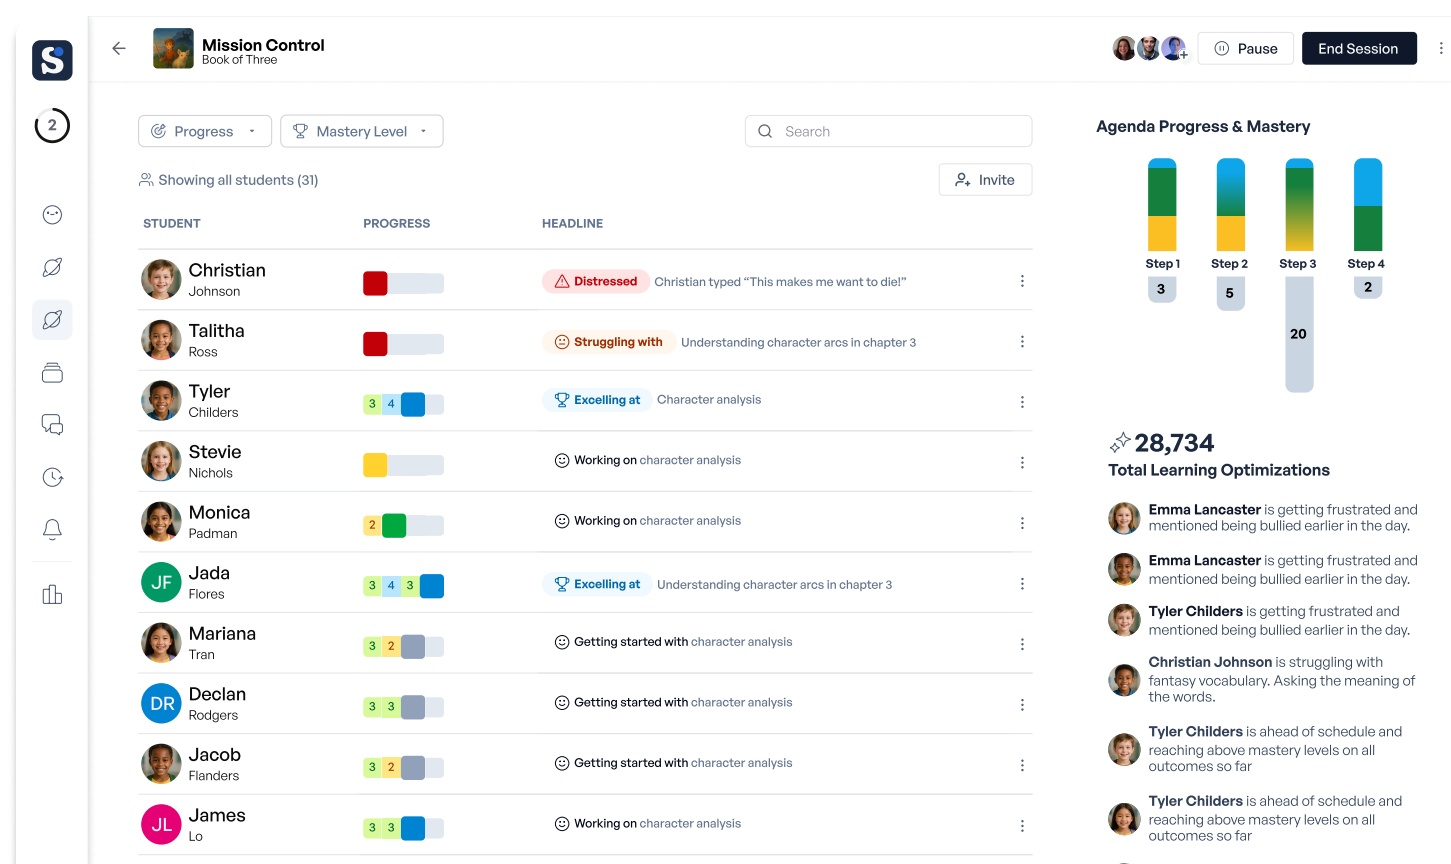

- "We can't afford another platform" → Often costs less than traditional curriculum supplements and replaces multiple point solutions
- "Is AI safe for students?" → Purpose-built for education with complete transparency—full audit trail of all interactions
- "Teachers won't adopt another tool?" → Over 40% become regular users, saves time instead of adding work

A new way of working with students

It's hard to support teachers across an entire system with wildly different needs and focus.

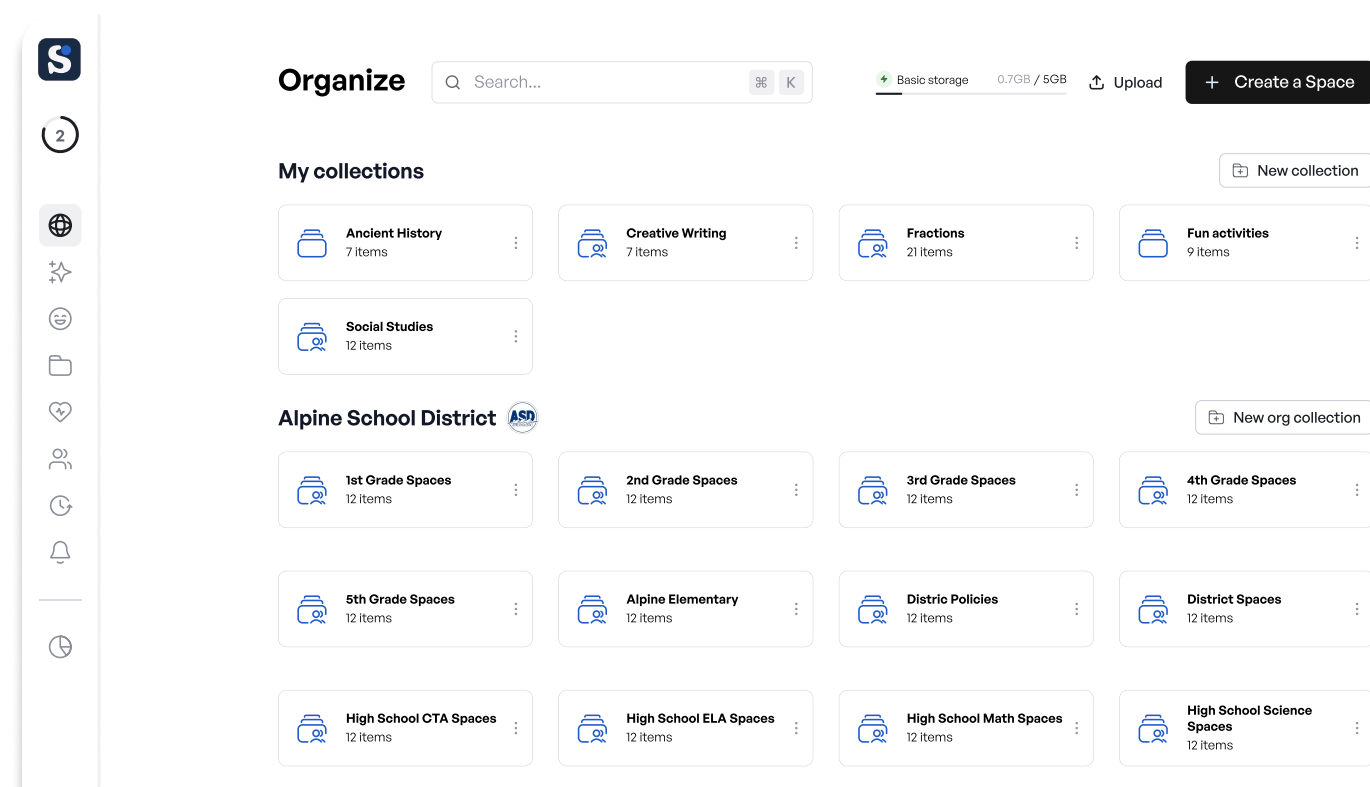

Teachers that use SchoolAI expand their capacity, helping them deliver the kind of personalized 1:1 attention every student deserves.

School leaders face growing pressure to drive outcomes, support overwhelmed teachers, and ensure every learner is reaching their potential, all while navigating tight budgets and competing priorities.

Use Organize to share resources

Teachers become equipped with:

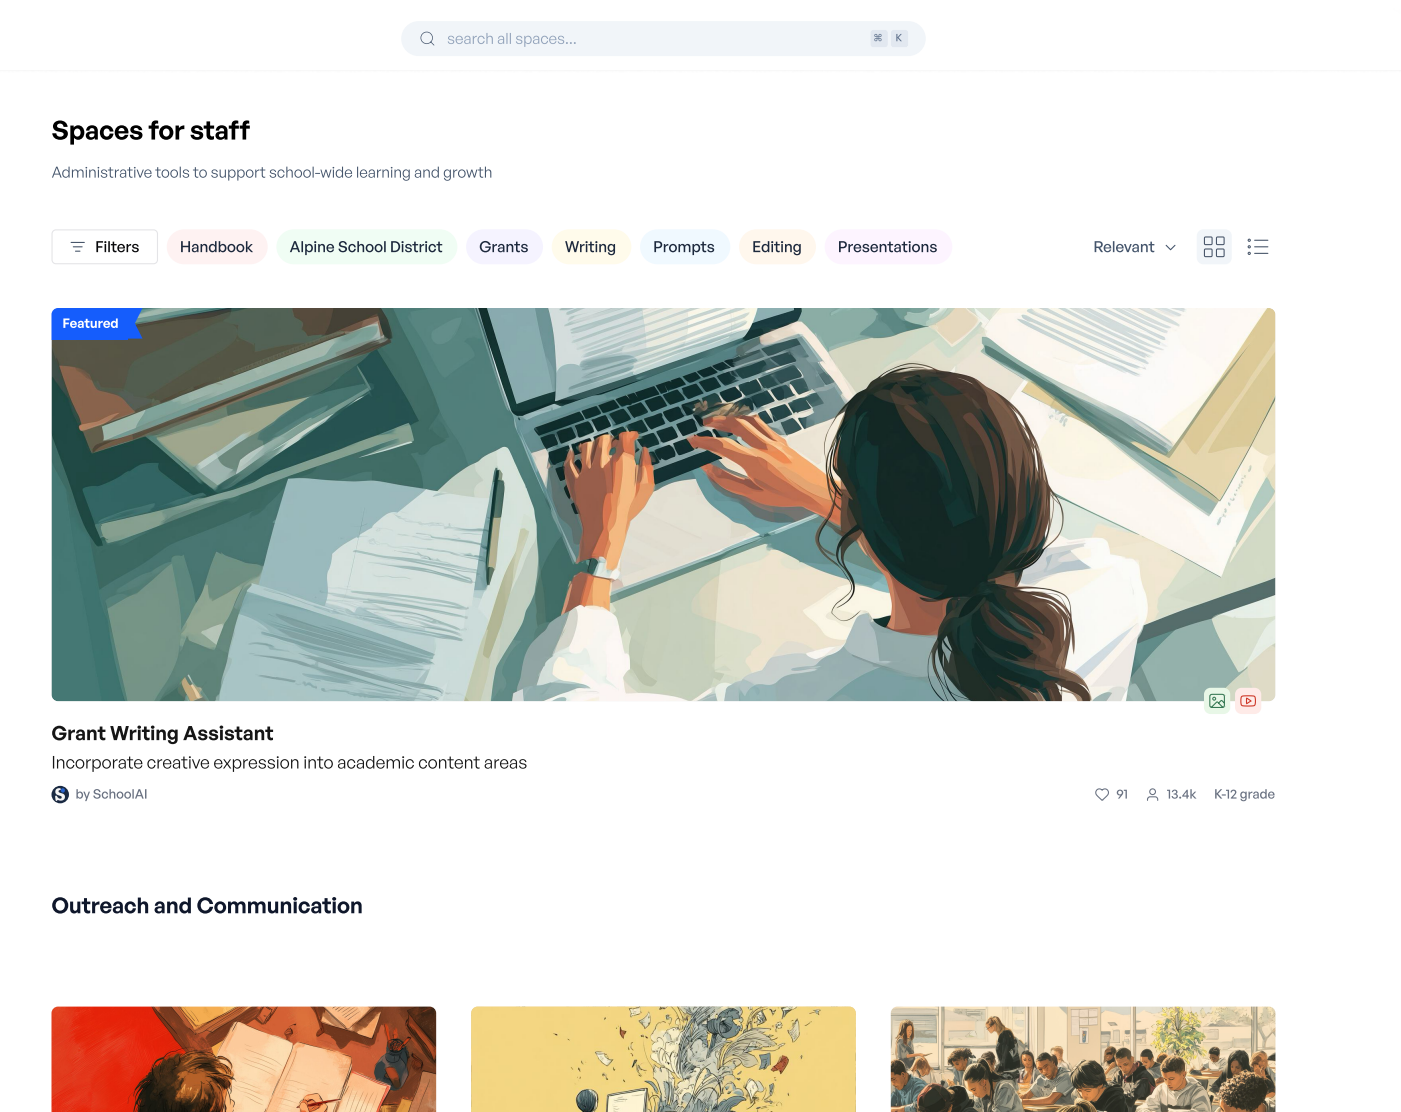

- The immediate access to important resources, templates, and best practices, with the power to remix and adjust them for their needs.
- An intuitive and powerful way to distribute and share what's working for them across their PLCs, School, and Districts.

Partnering with SchoolAI has allowed us to introduce a tool in the classroom that provides teachers with valuable insights into their students' progress in every class”

— Dr. Anthony Godfrey, Superintendent, Jordan School District

There are Spaces just for you

- Understand how their teachers are doing
